FLAVOR PROFILE

Fruity and rich with more of everything: malt, hops, yeast, and hearty flavor. Aromatic nose of wild herbs, the roasted and toasted flavors are powerful, sensual, and spicy, with a richness of malt and a balanced measure of hops experienced in few other beers.

HISTORY

When Pliny the Elder, the famous Roman doctor, bon vivant and writer, visited what is now Germany 2000 years ago, he observed that people made "barley wine." High gravity, high alcohol barley wines became popular as a substitute for whiskey in Victorian England. They had almost disappeared by the time that Pike and other craft breweries re-introduced the style. Poetry in a glass; barley wine is the finest product of the brewer's art.

Brewed annually from 1991 until 1997 when Pike was sold. Vintage dated, it was re-introduced in 2006 in 12oz. bottles. With the addition of a new filler, Old Bawdy 2007 is now bottled in a 22oz. bottle for cellaring like a fine wine. Brewed September 2009; Bottled December 2009.
